SUBJECT: MASCARO AWARDED SIX NEW MUNICIPAL RECYCLABLES PROCESSING CONTRACTS

J. P. Mascaro & Sons continues to grow its business in the processing of recyclable materials. Recently, the municipalities of Exeter, Swarthmore, Tinicum, Bern, Lansdowne and Perkasié awarded J. P. Mascaro & Sons contracts for the collection, transportation and processing of their communities' recyclable materials. The recyclables from these municipalities will be delivered to TotalRecycle, Inc., Mascaro's 85,000 square foot state-of-the-art, fully-automated processing facility in Exeter Township, where they will be processed and marketed to end-users.

While others are approaching recycling cautiously in today's depressed recycling market, J. P. Mascaro & Sons is actively increasing its commitment to recycling and growing its market share in that sector of the business, as evidenced by its many recent municipal recycling contract awards.

Speaking to the contract awards, Mascaro's Director of Sustainability, Joseph P. Mascaro, said, "We are excited about adding these new communities to our growing list of recycling customers and we are committed to remaining at the forefront of waste recycling and reuse."
